

Delek Europe to rename BP stations in France, L'argus reports

Delek Europe, a company held by TDR Capital LLP which operates in France with a license to market products under the brand BP, has been renamed European Forecourt Retail Group, according to information by French online media service L'argus.

L'Argus learned about the change on February 26 from a company official who said that the decision will help the group to best accomplish its company mission, the media reported.

The group operates service stations under the BP brands in France and Texaco in Benelux.

TDR Capital LLP bought Delek Europe last August, the report said.

Rika Coppens, general director of the group, said that the company will strive to become a leading forecourt retailer in Europe. The group operates a total 1,200 stations, approximately.

The information could not be immediately, independently confirmed by PetrolPlaza.