

Moroccan Shell retailer distinguishes top operators with Casablanca ceremony

Vivo Energy Maroc, which markets Shell products in Morocco, has rewarded the operators of its network which it considers the best performers in terms of sales volumes as well as quality performance.

“More than 70 service station managers received honors in four categories,” the company said in a mid-April statement.

Vivo Energy Maroc has a network of 330 stations and directly employs 600 people. Vivo Energy has operations in many countries in Africa and nearby regions managing in total 1,500 fuel stations all selling Shell brands.