

Paraguayan state oil company Petropar sources fuel

The president of the state oil company of Paraguay, Petropar, Romulo Campos said that following the coming signature of contracts with four more big suppliers to get more gasoline and diesel the company has already sourced fuel to cover 95% of the market's needs in the near term.

Campos said that there is an agreement and that there is already an ongoing process with “big” companies like Barcos y Rodados, Copetrol, Puma and Esso.

Petropar is “making history” because this is the first time that it is getting agreements with 95% of the oil/distributor companies.