

Hungary: Spar opens 3 new stores in Lukoil gas stations

Spar Hungary will open three stores in Lukoil gas stations located in Budapest, Diósd and Tatabánya, announced the company.

The first store opened yesterday in Budapest, with the other two following suit on December 3, reported the Budapest Business Journal.

“Based on customer feedback, there is an increasing demand for quality and good price-to-value services. With the opening of the new stores ... we can guarantee Spar prices, to allow our customers to carry out their everyday shopping at gas stations,” said Jenő Horvát-Dori, CEO of Normbenz, the operator of Lukoil stations.

Austrian-based Spar currently operates around 45 stores in Hungarian gas stations. Last week the convenience store chain announced four new stores at OMV service stations.