

UNITI expo sets exhibitor booking deadline at end of April

UNITI expo 2016, the leading trade fair in Europe for the fuel retailing and car wash industry, has marked April 29 as the deadline for last-minute exhibitor bookings.

The organization has announced that there are still some places left for last-minute exhibitors who wish to attend the second edition of UNITI expo, celebrated June 14 – 16 in Stuttgart, Germany.

The international trade fair expects to gather around 400 exhibitors from over 35 countries and well above 10,000 attendants with a 100 different nationalities.

Due to the high exhibitor demand, last September UNITI expo's organizers decided to increase the exhibition space by adding a new hall to the trade fair. Hall 5, which already has over 60 exhibitors and is dedicated to the areas of Logistics, Forecourt Technology and Payment, has added 10,000 sqm to the exhibition area.

The new hall has brought the exhibition space up to 40,000 sqm – a significant increase from the 25,000 sqm of UNITI expo 2014. According to the organizers, the number of exhibitor bookings has proofed "adding a new hall was the correct decision."

UNITI expo takes place every two years, bringing together all the sectors from the fuel retailing and car wash industry, from technology and logistics, to shop and convenience.
