

Gallagher Fuel Systems announces new positions

Gallagher Fuel Systems has appointed Fred Noyce as International Market Developer Manager and Daryl Osborne as Technical Account Manager.

“Gallagher is about ‘Brilliant Simplicity’ and bringing ‘World Class’ products and support to the market. Both Fred and Daryl fit into this approach very well, [...]with decades of Industry knowledge”, explained the company in a release.

Fred Noyce will be responsible for identifying and developing new markets for Gallagher's Fuel Dispensers and Vapour Recovery Systems. He has worked within the retail fuel industry over the past 30 years, including 10 years based in the UK.

With 25 years of experience in the fuelling business, Gallagher is confident Daryl Osborne will take its reputation for a great customer experience to new heights.

Headquartered in New Zealand, Gallagher distributes pumps, services and vapour recovery systems across the world.
