

New Products shown at the GDS Stand @UNITI expo 2016

Innovative gas stations' price sign, digital signage and lighting solutions.

For the first time at UNITI expo 2016 booth number 3A51, GDS is proud to present its range of professional display and lighting solutions specifically designed to meet the needs of the Gas Stations' market. The product range that you will see will include applications for indoor and outdoor advertising, dispenser display solutions, price signs, and lighting.

Market leading designer and manufacturer GDS will present its revolutionary green product range for large screen digital signage, that uses e-Paper technology to open up a whole new spectrum of performance options. The maximum expression of this technology applied in the Gas Stations' market is newest Pricing based on an e-Tela display that shows information as clear as if it was printed on paper and the content can be changed remotely as often as needed with no on-site intervention.

Visit GDS at booth number 3A51, hall 3, where our staff will be proud to show you our full range of digital and lighting solutions, and give you all the information you need about them.
