

Phillips 66 appoints new national sales manager in pursuit of growth

Phillips 66 has appointed Mark Todd to the role of National Sales Manager for its UK & Ireland Marketing division.

Mark Todd will be responsible for bringing on board new customers and strengthening existing relationships with high volume resellers, group forecourt dealers and supermarkets throughout the UK and Ireland.

“Mark is ambitious and, coming from outside the business, is well-placed to take on the challenge of increasing our market share and identifying new market opportunities,” said Mary Wolf, Managing Director of Phillips 66 UK & Ireland Marketing.

The new appointment brings a wealth of industry experience to Phillips 66, having worked in the downstream fuels industry for over 26 years.

“Over the years I’ve come to know Phillips 66 well and have long admired the company’s customer-centric values and ability to really listen to their customers,” says Mark Todd.