

GasBuddy to give away thousands of gallons of fuel in 2017

GasBuddy is kicking off its 2017 Tank Takeover Series in Houston, Texas, and throughout the year it will hand drivers thousands of gallons of free gas.

GasBuddy returns this year with a series of events across multiple U.S. cities where thousands of gallons are given to customers for free. The Tank Takeover Series kicks off in Houston, Texas on February 1, at a Corner Store location just in time to get the city's football fans 'pumped' for the Super Bowl.

"We are tapping into our network of more than 60 million passionate GasBuddy users and providing them with a unique experience of the modern-day gas station," said Walt Doyle, CEO of GasBuddy.

The 2017 GasBuddy Tank Takeover Series is based on the debut and events that ran throughout 2016 in various cities like Charlotte, Denver, Los Angeles, Phoenix, and Sydney, Australia.

GasBuddy is an app used by millions of drivers to find the best place to fuel their cars.