

UK: Suresite appoints two new directors

Petroleum and card processing company Suresite has announced two new promotions to mark a chapter of growth.

Preston-based Suresite Group has recently announced two key promotions as part of their development and expansion plans. Keith Bevan, Group Business Development Manager, is now assuming the role of Sales and Marketing Director, and Karen Phillips, Finance Manager, will begin in a new role of Finance Director.

The Lancashire-based company has over 20 years of history, but the promotions mark what has been a substantial period of growth for the company. Over the past year Suresite has launched a new product, Suresite Wetstock.

“We are the market leaders in the petroleum card processing industry, and this is credit to the great team we have here. For us, the next logical step to begin offering our service to a range of new clients in previously unexplored markets,” said Keith Bevan, Sales and Marketing Director.

Along with their Card Services offering, growth is planned in all other areas of the business, from looking to expand into Europe with their Wetstock service, to further improving their Health & Safety offering.
