

Indonesia: Indigenous fuel retailer to open 200 sites

A fuel retailing company from Indonesia that focuses on rural areas is targeting 200 petrol stations by 2050.

Smart Stream Resources, an indigenous company that sells fuel across Indonesia, has set the target of 200 sites. The company currently operates 64 mini petrol stations with 51 of them owned by cooperative, reports The Star.

"We plan to open three stations in Sabah and Sarawak and two more in Peninsular Malaysia soon. We will have 72 Smart petrol stations nationwide by year-end," said Mohd Khairuddin Saimon, Managing Director.

Saimon also explained how the company will be using a new, modern image for the petrol stations that open this year and in the future in order to compete with the major oil companies.
