

Top European retailer runs 4,500 POS with Diebold Nixdorf

The Globus Group, a leading European retailer with stores in Germany, Russia, Czech Republic, and Luxembourg, is deploying more than 4,500 point-of-sale (POS) systems and software from Diebold Nixdorf, according to a company release.

Diebold Nixdorf's POS software TP.net will enable Globus to introduce eCommerce solutions such as online purchases and in-store pickups and facilitate integration of new applications and cross-channel management.

Olaf Schomaker, managing director director for HR, IT and controlling at Globus, selected Diebold Nixdorf because its software-driven solutions enable Globus stores to standardize POS data and processes in all the countries they operate.

"Moreover, it will enable us to take advantage of every option for introducing and expanding innovative consumer services, including mobile applications and new self-service and payment options," said Schomaker.