

American LNG Forum 2020

The US is living through the great times of energy renaissance and LNG industry faces numerous exciting opportunities as well as challenges in order to be able to thrive. Many questions related to building a sustainable LNG export industry, LNG pricing and finding top-notch modern technology for projects lie ahead. The American LNG Forum is your gateway to tackling these issues, connecting with the right people for business and learning about the latest developments, projects and innovations in the LNG sector. Taking place in Houston, the event will not be limited only to the local participation, the attendees will have the chance to meet people from different parts of the world, are interested in business opportunities in US LNG sector.

Venue

To be confirmed

 February 4, 2020 - February 5, 2020

 Houston, United States

Contact information

ALJ GROUP
Martyna Burokaitė
United Kingdom

 americanlngforum.com