

Asia Pacific Fuel Industry Forum - APFI 2018

The Asia Pacific Fuel Industry Forum is the leading event for fuel wholesale, distribution and retail across Australia and New Zealand. Hosted at the Cordis, Auckland, New Zealand 4-6 September 2018, this is the third edition of the annual event.

Curated by industry for industry, the APFI Forum hosts a two-day conference and exhibition as well as a social program for all delegates to meet and interact together.

Known for its jam-packed conference agenda, this year's showcase speaker Casey Hyun, multi-award-winning designer, strategist and future trend forecaster. With over 20 years' experience with a number of top automotive companies, his vast experience in global business enables him to diagnose and forecast future trends in relation to car design.

Other topics on the agenda cover industry outlooks for Australia and New Zealand, competition and community pricing expectations, consumer trends and developments in digital innovation on the forecourt, and many more.

Exhibitors from across the region will be showcasing their latest products and services in the trade hall, which runs throughout the full event and also hosts an exclusive Contractors Forum on day one of the conference.
