Ukrainian Petroleum Market Conference 2018

Editorial of the NefteRynok Weekly invites you to Ukrainian Petroleum Market Conference to be held on September 13-14, 2018 in Kyiv.

Traditionally, on the first day, we will pay attention to the market of light petroleum products and on the second day, LPG-forum will be held. The venue is familiar to our regular participants. It is Fairmont Hotel in the centre of the old town.

The purpose of the XIII UPM 2018 Conference is to maintain the platform where the interaction between the manufacturers, traders and end consumers of motor fuels will come to maximum. In addition to traditional topics including supplies, logistics and equipment, marketing and IT issues will be discussed.

Except for Ukrainian participants, representatives of business from Poland, Belarus, Turkey, Romania, Turkmenistan and other countries that can offer new cooperation opportunities are expected.

We invite you to have a nice chat with partners and business colleagues in a comfortable place. See you at the conference on September 13-14! For more information, please follow the website link or contact Volodymyr Dolnyk.
