

European Food & Beverage Plastic Packaging Summit

We are pleased to confirm that 4th annual ACI's European Food & Beverage Plastic Packaging Summit will take place on 27th & 28th February 2019 in Rotterdam, The Netherlands.

This edition of the summit will focus on the industry's increasing challenge for innovation toward a sustainable future. We will be looking at the best strategies for sustainable packaging including recycling and packaging performance, with a stronger focus on the brands and retailers, who will share their thoughts and information on consumer experience and demands for the next generation of packaging.

Furthermore, the conference will also explore the European Commission's Circular Economy Package, and its impact on the dynamics of the entire supply chain. This includes the latest developments from the Waste Framework and Packaging directive, as well as the Single Use Plastics Directive, and the new challenges presented by these.
