

Essar Oil UK appoints new territory manager

The company announced the recruitment of Manoj Tugnait to its retail team to support Essar's rapidly growing network of stations in the country.

Manoj Tugnait will join Essar Oil UK as the territory manager for the Midlands and South West Region. Manoj, who previously worked with BP, Dunkin' Donuts and Baskin Robbins, will look to grow Essar's chain of retail businesses in the area, as well as be working hand in hand with the retail team to improve its offer and customer service proposition.

Manoj commented on his new appointment: "It's great to join the team at Essar at such an exciting time for the company. I'm looking forward to working with customers in the area to develop both fuel and non-fuel business growth."

With 67 sites in its growing fuel retail network across the UK, Essar recently confirmed the first opening of a Morrisons Daily at one of its branded retail outlets at Moultsford, with several more planned to be launched in 2019.
