The Nigerian National Petroleum Corporation (NNPC) and the Major Marketers Association of Nigeria (MOMAN) exchanged vows to strengthen synergy to ensure seamless supply of petroleum products across the country.

The NNPC will enjoy the support of marketers to ensure the country doesn't suffer more supply shortages.

"We maintain good relations with MOMAN which have helped to ensure that there is products availability nationwide during the last Yuletide and the just concluded election period. MOMA is living up to our expectation as partners. NNPC is ready to escalate whatever recommendations the Association comes up with at the end of its retreat to appropriate authorities," said Ndu Ughamadu, NNPC Group General Manager, Group Public Affairs Division.

On his part, MOMAN Chairman, Tunji Oyebanji, assured that the association was a partner like no other, saying it was a dependable ally in the supply and distribution of petroleum products business in the country.
