

Argentina: YPF obtains Top Tier™ fuel certification

YPF is the first company in South America to obtain this certification.

YPF's fuels received the international Top Tier™ certification. Top Tier™ seeks fuel efficiency by cleaning and removing dirt from the intake valves, controlling deposits in the combustion chamber and in the injectors.

The verification consisted of random and unannounced inspections of the more than 1,500 YPF stations in the country. In addition, the Technical Service Management carried out audits with its mobile laboratories, equipped with qualified personnel and state-of-the-art analysis equipment, in order to guarantee that the quality is the same in all stations.

Top Tier™ is a fuel quality certification program created in the United States and directed by Mercedes Benz, BMW, Audi, General Motors, Ford, Toyota, Honda, Volkswagen Navistar and FCA, the ten largest automotive companies in the North American market setting a high standard in fuel quality and cleanliness.
