

Petrol PLAZA

PTT Philippines names new CEO

The company named Retail Marketing Director Thitiroj Rergsumran as its new President and Chief Executive Officer (CEO).

© PTT Philippines

Rergsumran's new appointment took effect last May 1, replacing Sukanya Seriyothin who has led the company since November 2014. Seriyothin ended her tour of duty in the Philippines to return to PTT Oil and Retail (PTTOR) head office in Bangkok, Thailand. PTTOR is the parent company of PTT Philippines.

Rergsumran who served as Marketing Director for PTT Philippines for four years has vowed to continue all the good legacy that Seriyothin left during her tenure as president and CEO. "We will continue to strive further to sustain if not exceed all the efforts that my predecessors had started," Rergsumran said, adding that the focus will remain to achieve PTT's mission and vision in the Philippines.

"Our expansion will continue on both our oil and non-oil businesses and we are confident that we can achieve our growth because of the strong support from our head office in Thailand., especially now that Khun Sukanya (Seriyothin) has already joined our international marketing," he averred.

Seriyothin has been assigned to PTTOR International Marketing being headed by former PTT Philippine president and CEO Wisarn Chawalitanon.

Prior to his assignment to the Philippines in 2015, Regrsumran was the senior Area Manager of PTT Public Company Limited in Thailand. He also served as General Director of Vietnam LPG Company Limited from 2009 to 2014. He has an MBA degree from the California State Polytechnic University in Pomona, California in the Los Angeles metropolitan area. In 2006, he also earned his Ph.D. in Development Management from the National Institute of Development Administration in Thailand.