

Circle K installs Ireland's first high speed EV chargers

Circle K and IONITY have partnered to bring the first 350kW EV chargers to Ireland. The partnership was officially launched at Circle K M11 Gorey.

Circle K, Ireland's largest fuel and convenience retailer has officially launched its new high-powered electric vehicle charging network in association with IONITY, Europe's leading high-power charging provider.

The IONITY high-powered charger has also been installed in Circle K Cashel in Tipperary with four more IONITY high powered charging stations set to be introduced over the next few months.

"We are delighted to introduce Ireland's very first high-powered high-speed electric vehicle chargers through our exclusive partnership with IONITY, and we are very proud to be able to offer Irish motorists exceptionally fast EV charging facilities at these stations," incoming Circle K Ireland Managing Director Gordon Lawlor commented.
