

Oman Oil Marketing company raises road safety awareness in Buraimi

The fuel retailer has already carried out four road safety campaign since 2018.

As part of its efforts to spread vehicle safety awareness in local communities, Oman Oil Marketing Company recently brought its Road Safety Awareness Village to Buraimi.

The latest edition of the initiative, themed “Safe Drive Save Lives”, saw the participation of over 500 children and their families, educating them on the values of road safety with a fun and engaging programme of events.

“This initiative is part of our ongoing partnership with the ROP to enrich Oman’s driving safety culture and reduce the number of accidents reported on Oman’s roads,” said Mohamed Al Mujaini, Senior Manager Health & Safety of Oman Oil Marketing Company.

The Road Safety Awareness Village was launched in 2018 and to date, has already been carried out in four different locations in and outside Muscat.

Oman Oil currently has 213 gas stations.
