

Gulf opens new station in Córdoba capital

The fuel company present in over 100 countries aims to have 50 branded stations in Argentina before the end of the year.

Gulf continues to expand with the inauguration of its first petrol station in Córdoba Capital. Located in Cerro de las Rosas, the new site is Gulf's fourth inauguration in recent months.

Walter Oscar Gómez, owner of the station, said "I was born in a station, I am the third generation of stationers, and we have lived them all with the family. When Gulf's proposal arrived, I was very excited to be able to brand my station with its logo and new image."

Gulf plans to flag more than 20 stations in the province as its expansion plan advance. "Arriving in Cordoba is a very important milestone. In our opening calendar we are looking to be in the main cities of the country", remarked Eduardo Torrás, General Manager of DeltaPatagonia, licensee of Gulf in Argentina.

The next openings are in Presidente Derqui and Avellaneda, in the Province of Buenos Aires, and in Río Cuarto, Province of Córdoba.
