

Circle K Ireland unveils final motorway station

New site at Kilcullen on the M9 is set to cater for thousands of motorists daily. Newest opening is the final of three newly developed motorway service areas by Circle K Ireland in association with Transport Infrastructure Ireland.

Circle K, Ireland's largest fuel and convenience retailer, has today unveiled its newest motorway station area in its nationwide network, Circle K M9 Kilcullen.

This is the final of three newly developed motorway sites which Circle K announced plans for last year in partnership with Transport Infrastructure Ireland. Other new state-of-the-art sites unveiled by Circle K this year in partnership with Transport Infrastructure Ireland include the recently opened Circle K M6 Athlone in Co. Westmeath, and the launch of the largest Circle K globally on the M11 in Gorey, Co. Wexford.

These newly unveiled sites in 2019 are in addition to the opening of a new motorway site on the N7 at Kill North, Co. Kildare in December 2018 all of which is part of an overall investment of €35million.

"We are proud to officially open Circle K M9 Kilcullen today and announce the completion of the development of our three new strategic motorway locations, in partnership with TII," Gordon Lawlor, Managing Director of Circle K Ireland.

The Kildare site, which will be open 24 hours daily, also features a wide range of services for customer's convenience, including a seated café area, an indoor and outdoor children's play area, WC changing and showering facilities, Wi-Fi, and extensive parking for customers including truck and coach spaces. A McDonalds restaurant will also be on site.
