

UAE: ENOC LINK to offer mobile fueling services to JAFZA

The trucks will serve employees and companies of Jafza by facilitating mobile fuelling services for Super 98 and Special 95 fuel grades.

ENOC Link recently signed an agreement with DP World, UAE Region – the leading trade enabler, to offer mobile fuelling services to employees and companies working and operating in Jebel Ali Free Zone (Jafza).

The trucks will be dedicated to serve employees and companies of Jafza by facilitating mobile fuelling services to meet their demand for Super 98 and Special 95 fuel grades. The fleet will increase based on increasing demand for the service.

“As a leading energy player in the UAE, we are always on the lookout for opportunities to provide our partners with solutions that will enhance business and operational efficiencies. We have a longstanding partnership with DP World, which includes providing diesel and fuel management capabilities to its fleet across its terminals. Through ENOC Link, we hope to offer DP World’s employees an integrated suite of reliable, safe and convenient access to fuel,” said H.E Saif Humaid Al Falasi, Group CEO of ENOC.

"Jafza is the first free zone in the UAE to facilitate this service as part of our continuance commitment to create an environment that enables companies and their people to focus on their business activities while we put in place the support systems. We believe that ENOC's unique service of delivering fuel within the free zone will save time and boost productivity for all. Our partnership with ENOC is another step forward in Jafza's customer-centric service excellence success," commented Mohammed Al Muallem, CEO and Managing Director, DP World, UAE Region and CEO of Jafza.
