

UK: Adler and Allan becomes fuel management powerhouse

It becomes Britain's biggest fuel management and quality provider by acquiring LCM Environmental Ltd.'s Fuel Facility Management division.

Leading environmental risk reduction specialist Adler and Allan has today announced that it is acquiring the Fuel Facility Management (FM) division of LCM Environmental Ltd (LCM).

LCM's Fuel FM division conducts a range of forecourt maintenance and compliance testing services, for a number of major forecourt and commercial clients and delivers these services across the UK. The purchase of the division further enhances Adler and Allan's position in the fuel forecourt market making it Britain's biggest fuel management and quality provider.

The division will be incorporated and renamed Adler and Allan and is now a wholly owned subsidiary of Adler and Allan. The sale includes personnel and equipment which have been transferred with it. The remainder of LCM will continue to trade as usual.

"The acquisition of LCM's Fuel FM division, enlarges our forecourt business, allowing us to offer a wider proposition and serve our forecourt customers even better," said Andrew Clarke, Forecourt Services Managing Director, Adler and Allan.

Adler and Allan works with over 20 depots across the whole of the UK.
