

International Car Wash Group acquires TLC Xpress Carwash

With the acquisition of 7 sites, ICWG enters the North Carolina market.

The International Car Wash Group (ICWG), the world's largest local car wash, has announced the acquisition of TLC Xpress Carwash, a family-owned and operated staple of the Fayetteville, North Carolina community. With the acquisition of this seven-property chain, ICWG enters the North Carolina market for the first time

All TLC Xpress sites will be rebranded as Car Wash USA Express, one of the largest express car wash businesses in the South and growing rapidly.

North Carolina's sixth largest city, Fayetteville is best known as the home of Fort Bragg and Pope Air Force Base. It is also becoming an attractive retirement destination. The acquisition of TLC Xpress provides ICWG a good foothold in this mid-sized market and the opportunity to build on well-established community and employee relationships.

"North Carolina has been on the radar for quite some time. We are very excited to bring these seven car wash sites into the ICWG family," said Jeff Maize, Senior Vice President, Acquisitions, ICWG. "The owners, a mother and son team, have built a very strong brand and we are proud that they have selected ICWG to keep their legacy alive."
