

ENOC Group to open 22 new service stations across the UAE in 2020

The company is set out to deliver more than a two-fold growth in service stations compared to 2019.

ENOC Group announced its plans to open 22 new service stations across the UAE by the end of 2020. The group plans to open ten service stations in Sharjah, nine in Dubai and three in the Northern Emirates.

ENOC Group plans to bolster its retail network from its existing 136 service stations to 193 across the UAE by end of 2021.

“Our expansion efforts are aligned with the UAE government to establish a robust infrastructure required to serve the UAE over the next 50 years,” said CEO ENOC Group, Saif Humaid Al Falasi. “We will continue to expand our retail footprint, offering our customers ease of access to fuel and automotive services,” he added.

ENOC Group inaugurated recently a new service station in Al Khan, Sharjah, built to provide convenience to Al Khan and nearby communities including Al Nahda and Sharjah City Centre. The new service station features a convenience store ZOOM, and is equipped with smart fuel dispensers; fully integrated digital wall displays and advanced Vapour Recovery System.
