

Jordan: Manaseer opens new gas station in Amman

The retailer has opened three new sites over the last three months as it continues to expand across the country.

Jordanian retailer is opening a new gas station Dahiat Prince Ali, Amman, Kassab Al-Jazi Street, opposite Bayt Al Maqdes School.

Manaseer Oil & Gas has opened three new sites since June this year. After starting with two sites, the company is now present across Jordan with some 100 gas stations.

The company owns a fleet of 200 fuel tankers ranging in size from 77,000 to 32,000 liters that distribute fuel all over Jordan. They also own and operate 35 smaller fuel tankers to distribute diesel to household and business bulk customers.
