

Petrol PLAZA

Tatsuno Thailand announces the official opening of the new factory and the start of production

On June 30th, 2020, Tatsuno Thailand, a fuel dispenser manufacturer, announced the official opening of the new factory in Bangkok as well as the start of production.

© Tatsuno Corporation

Established in 1989 as a group company of Tatsuno Corporation, Tatsuno Thailand started out specializing in the maintenance of fuel dispensers in Thailand. In 1994, the company also started local production of fuel dispensers which has been increasing over the years.

Today, Tatsuno Thailand is the only manufacturer in Thailand that offers one-stop solution including planning, development, production, sales, installation, and maintenance service of fuel dispensers.

In order to meet the increasing demands from the customers, Tatsuno Thailand has decided to transfer and enlarge the factory to bolster the production capacity, which has doubled in comparison with the previous facility. The automated guided vehicles carry the dispensers between the stages of production to improve productivity, and the new inventory control system is constructed to deliver dispensers to the customers appropriately. Also, the solar panel is installed which cover daytime electricity for office.

“The main goal was to improve productivity, but we also wanted to care about the environment.” says Yoshimasa Nagasawa, CEO of Tatsuno Thailand. “We will make the best use of the new factory and supply high quality products to customers.”

Note: The company name changed from Tatsuno Engineering & Service Co., Ltd. to Tatsuno (Thailand) Co. Ltd. on June 30th, 2020

Contact information

Tatsuno (Thailand) Co., Ltd.

1/8 Mu 3, Ladsawai Lamlukka
Pathumthani 12150
Thailand

 +66 2 532 0987

 www.tatsuno.co.th