

Mister Car Wash acquires 7 sites in Washington

The U.S. national car wash chain doubles its network in Washington with the acquisition of Bush Car Wash.

Mister Car Wash doubled its footprint in the state of Washington with the acquisition of seven locations of Bush Car Wash in Kennewick, Walla Walla, Pasco, Richland, and West Richland.

The acquisition brings Mister Car Wash's statewide presence from six to 13 locations.

"Bush Car Wash is a family-run business with deep roots in the community and years of experience providing excellent service," stated Casey Lindsay, vice president of corporate development for Mister Car Wash. "Our motto of "Inspiring People to Shine" aligns nicely with the Bush's family-oriented approach which will prepare our new team for continued success and give our new Unlimited Wash Club members and customers great service in the Evergreen State."

Headquartered in Tucson, Arizona, Mister Car Wash operates 336 car washes and 31 express lubes in 21 states.
