

Spain: Andamur, Molgas open their first gas filling station in Jaén

The new location in Guarromán is Andamur's first multi-energy station, and Molga's ninth natural gas station in Spain.

Andamur and Molgas joined forces to open their first natural gas station in Jaén, Spain. Located in Andamur Guarromán service area, the new site is Andamur's first multi-energy station and Molga's ninth natural gas station in Spain.

Andamur and Molgas customers can refuel LNG and CNG in Andamur Guarromán service area. The new natural gas station features a LNG pump for heavy vehicles and a double CNG pump for trucks, cars or vans.

24 hours open, it is free access and accepts debit and credit cards, as well as fuel cards from both companies.

Scale Gas, a startup born out of Enagás' venturing programme Enagás Emprende, dedicated to small-scale infrastructure and logistics solutions, will manage Andamur Guarromán service area.

Andamur and Molgas are planning to open a new gas filling point in Andamur La Junquera service area by the end of the year.
