ENOC Link, the digital mobile fuel delivery service for businesses in the UAE, is launching of bio-diesel fuel for commercial fleets, offering access to Biodiesel B5, B20 and B100. The recent expansion in ENOC Link's operations makes it the only digital mobile fuelling operator in the UAE to offer customers bio-diesel.

ENOC Link has deployed multiple dedicated biodiesel delivery trucks with tank capacities varying from 800 to 5,000 litres to serve existing and prospect customers.

ENOC Link plans to expand the fleet to meet increasing customer demand in the near future.

"We have seen an increasing interest from business customers opting for cleaner fuel options that will not only reduce emission levels, but enhance operational efficiencies," said Group CEO, ENOC, Saif Humaid Al Falasi.

ENOC Link is a mobile fuelling concept that is part of Next, ENOC Group's accelerator programme, which provides delivery of petrol and diesel to businesses.
