USA: Love's Travel Stop adds 20th location in Indiana

The new centre brings 41 truck parking spaces to Huntington County.

Love's Travel Stops, the leading travel stop network for professional truck drivers and motorists in the United States, has opened its first new location this year in Huntington, Indiana. Love's 20th travel stop in Indiana brings 41 truck parking spaces to Huntington County, according to a company's press release.

"We're excited to open our 20th location in Indiana and join the Huntington community," said Greg Love, co-CEO of Love's. "This location is the first of many we plan to open this year to help get professional drivers and four-wheel customers back on the road safely and quickly."

Open 24/7, Love's new stop in Indiana spreads over 8,000 square feet, and features several amenities including Taco John's restaurant, four diesel bays, showers, laundry facilities, an assortment of food & beverages, bean-to-cup coffee service, and a Mobile Go Zone with the latest electronics.

Founded in 1964 and headquartered in Oklahoma City, Love's Travel Stops & Country Stores operate a network with more than 540 locations in 41 states. Love's has 400 truck service centers, which include Speedco and Love's Truck Care locations.
