

Spain: Repsol launches new EV lubricants' range

Focused on 100% electric vehicles, EV-FLUIDS join the Hybrid range that Repsol launched onto the market in 2019.

Repsol launched a new range of lubricants exclusively for electric vehicles and motorbikes. EV-FLUIDS join the Hybrid product range that Repsol launched onto the market in 2019.

EV-FLUIDS will be available at Repsol's usual points of sale, mainly service stations, official distributors and specialised garages.

Repsol is the leading lubricants retailer in the Iberian Peninsula, with a 25% share in Spain and 19% in Portugal in 2020.

Repsol's public recharging network is currently one of the most important infrastructures of its kind in Spain, with more than 250 public access points, including 70 fast charging points.

Over the next few years, the company aims to have an electric charging point every 50 km, approximately 1,000 charging points, taking advantage of the capillarity of its network of 3,400 service stations.