

Argentina: Puma Energy celebrates fifth anniversary with 400 sites active

In the retail sector, Puma Energy has 100 wholesale installations, totalling 500 points of sale between its fuel and lubricants business.

In September, Puma Energy celebrated five years since the inauguration of its first fuel station in Argentina. Since its first opening in the province of Entre Ríos, the brand has managed to expand its presence to 400 locations in the country, reports to surtidores.com.ar.

In the retail sector, in addition to the 400 fuel stations, Puma Energy has 100 wholesale facilities, totalling 500 points of sale between its fuel and lubricants business.

In the agricultural sector, according to surtidores.com.ar, Puma Energy offers fuel distribution to 34 associated cooperatives through its 55 agricultural stations in the main production areas of the country. In 2019, the group consolidated its alliance with the Association of Argentine Cooperatives (ACA).

Puma Energy is a leading global energy business, providing energy solutions in 44 countries and across six continents. Puma Energy has around 2,500 retail sites, a presence at over 80 airports and a network of storage terminals.
