

Video review from "SPT Branschdagarna 2014" in Stockholm, Sweden

Nick Needs, Chief Editor of erpecnews, attended the event and interviewed a few of its participants about the show, Sweden and the upcoming UNITI expo.

One important conference topic was the fact that from September 2014, all fuel retailers in Europe, must stock and sell AdBlue for diesel passenger cars. Thomas Wullkopf from ELAFLEX HIBY Tanktechnik GmbH & Co. explains why this development is of major importance and will have a strong influence of our future infrastructure.
