

Amazon installs lockers at Shell stations in Germany

Amazon Germany has launched a partnership with Shell to offer parcel services at petrol stations.

According to the website Post & Parcel, the e-commerce company has initially put up delivery lockers in 10 Shell stations in Munich.

If the service proves to be successful amidst competition from German market leader DHL, it will be extended to the rest of Germany.

Amazon has an established parcel locker network in the United Kingdom and France.