

Wawa opens 500th fuel store in the U.S.

Wawa Inc. is celebrating today the grand opening of its 500th fuel store, located in Cheltenham, Pennsylvania.

Since opening its first fuel store in 1996 in Millsboro, Delaware, Wawa has expanded to offer fuel at 500 out of its more than 730 stores across its six-state operating area of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and Florida.

"It's hard to believe in just 20 years we've grown to now include 500 Wawa stores offering quality fuel across six states ," said Brian Schaller, Wawa's Vice President of Fuel.

According to Schaller, Wawa sells more gallons per site than anyone else in the United States and is a market share leader in every market they serve.

In addition to the fuel milestone, Wawa is also honouring Veterans Day, which takes place tomorrow, a special tribute to the country's veterans.

"Today we honor the associates and customers who have helped us achieve this milestone, as well as our heroes who make our communities and our country such a special place," added Schaller.
