

OPW set to showcase 125 years of innovation at PEI-NACS

OPW to celebrate and showcase 125 Years of Innovation at the 2017 PEI Convention at the NACS Show in Chicago.

Hosted at McCormick Place on October 18-20, OPW will welcome attendees for a look at the past, present and future of fluid-handling solutions worldwide. Here are the top features to experience at OPW's booth.

The company will display innovative products, a virtual reality experience that will look at the future of retail fueling, and a history wall that will look at the company's history.

"Our 125th Anniversary has been a chance to celebrate the strong bonds that have contributed to decades of growth and success for us and our valued partners," said Keith Moye, VP of Global Marketing.

Since starting in 1892, OPW has now earned countless patents and has a global footprint that includes sales offices on six continents, manufacturing operations in North America, South America, Asia and Europe.