

UK: Phillips 66 commits to North West with new logistics deal

CLH Pipeline System Limited (CLH-PS) and Phillips 66 Limited have entered into a long-term throughput contract to December 2033 emphasising the company's commitment to the North West.

Under the contract Phillips 66 will continue to supply a significant volume of petroleum products from its Humber Refinery into the CLH-PS pipeline at Killingholme each year. Using its pipeline network, CLH-PS will transport this material to the Bramhall Terminal, from where it will be delivered to Phillips 66 wholesale and retail customers via the Bramhall Terminal road rack.

"This contract demonstrates our long-term commitment to the North West and further strengthens our presence and reputation in this region as the fuel supplier of choice," said Mary Wolf, Managing Director, UK Marketing at Phillips 66.

Bramhall Terminal is a key fuels supply terminal in the UK network and an important hub in Phillips 66's logistics infrastructure, having been leased and operated by the company since 1968. The Terminal is backed by a storage capacity of 44 million litres and is capable of supporting increased demand for fuel supply in the coming years.

The site is now fully equipped as a retail terminal, offering a complete suite of retail grades, namely diesel, premium Sentinel Diesel<sup>TM</sup>, unleaded and super unleaded.
