

ADNOC enters Dubai market, reveals first station locations

ADNOC Distribution has started construction of its first three petrol stations in Dubai, according to Emirates News Agency.

Set to open this year are ADNOC Distribution stations at the Dubai Investment Park on Mohamed bin Zayed Road near the Expo 2020 site and Al Maktoum Airport; in Al Qusais near Dubai International Airport; and on the Dubai-Al Ain highway.

All three stations will feature fuel filling bays, convenience stores, and fast food restaurants. Electric charging facilities could also be available as ADNOC discusses partnership with an international provider.

"The point of our expansion into the Emirate of Dubai is to bring our excellent services to more consumers as part of our drive to improve choice, convenience and service for customers wherever they may be in the UAE," said the company's CEO, Saeed Mubarak Al Rashdi.

Entering the Dubai market was a key part of the company's strategy in the lead up to its successful Initial Public Offering in December.
