

Find out how Bever Innovations makes the 'forecourt of the future' possible at UNITI expo

We like to share our knowledge and our vision on the future with you. Find out how Bever Innovations already makes the 'forecourt of the future' possible on the 15th, 16th and 17th of May at the Messe in Stuttgart, because we're attending UNITI expo 2018. You can visit us in Hall 5 at Stand 5A20!

The Internet of Everything and your forecourt

During the UNITI expo, Director Jeannot Bruggeling not only explains what the future of petrol stations looks like but also how our award winning EOS technology can contribute to this. See how you can use the Internet of Everything (IoE) on your petrol station. EOS Technology is integrated in the LED products from Bever Innovations and it can also be added to every other device in your network. It connects all devices on your forecourt in a wireless network where the devices can communicate with each other. They collect and send data, so you can improve your forecourt when you speak of energy savings, improving safety and predictive maintenance.

Attend our seminars for free

We would like to share our knowledge with you. That is why we provide various free seminars about different subject of the petrol industry, including:

- End to end innovation, incorporating retail marketing, service solutions and HQ operations
- Customer centric pricing through technology and Big Data
- Fuel station design and corporate image - The customer experience
- Optimising build and concept development of fuel stations

Do you want to attend one of these seminars? You can join us for free. Guarantee your place here!

Of course you can also talk to one of our representatives, they can help you to find the solution you need. The LED and lighting experts of Bever Innovations are happy to demonstrate how our LED products and solutions can bring your petrol station to life - Now and in the future.
