

Petrol PLAZA

Phillips 66 partners with Honda to offer in-vehicle fuel payment

New gas payment feature will provide a safe and seamless driving and fuelling experience.

© istock.com/tupungato

Phillips 66 is collaborating with Honda Developer Studio to develop in-vehicle fuel payment integration that allows Honda vehicle owners to reserve a pump and pay for fuel at Phillips 66®, 76® and Conoco® branded locations through their in-dash infotainment system.

This new in-vehicle feature will allow drivers to find the nearest Phillips 66, 76 or Conoco station and pay at the pump from the comfort of their driver seat. Phillips 66 launched mobile pay in early 2018 and is rolling it out at all branded stations into 2019.

"We understand consumers want to fuel up, pay and quickly be on their way," said John Barbour, Manager of Payments and Card Services at Phillips 66. "Now consumers can use the Phillips 66 apps in Honda cars to pay for gas at the pump in a fast, friendly and seamless way."

Using a network of branded marketers and dealers operating approximately 7,500 outlets.