

NEA - National Environment Agency

The National Environment Agency (NEA) is the leading public organisation responsible for keeping Singapore clean and green. Formed on 1 July 2002, NEA implements a range of environment-related programmes and initiatives through partnerships with the People, Public, and Private sectors.

A key mission of NEA is to motivate individuals to make caring for the environment a way of life. By keeping pollution levels low, ensuring high standards of public health, and providing up-to-date meteorological information, NEA aims to achieve sustainable development and to make Singapore a quality living environment

NEA's key programmes include:

- Energy efficiency
- Management of hawker centres
- Meteorological services
- Pollution control
- Prevention and control of vector-borne diseases
- Public hygiene and cleanliness
- Radiation protection and nuclear safety
- Solid waste management
- 3P (People, Public and Private) partnership
- Environmental training
